

The Vine

I am the vine; you are the branches...John 15:5

Go eat popcorn. That's right. I didn't come up with it. I learned it from someone else. They learned it from someone else. And so on. I have no idea where it originated.

Every year as I prepared to lead a week of camp, I would come up with a list of memory verses for the campers to try to memorize for points. Along with memory verses, they could memorize the books of the Bible in order for points.

Campers would always start with the New Testament. It is shorter and most of them are more familiar with the books. The students could rattle off the first few, but then they would get stuck after 2 Corinthians. We would tell them, "Go eat popcorn."

Huh?!? Yeah, Go. Eat. Pop. Corn. Go stands for G. Eat stands for E. Pop is for P and Corn is C. Go Eat Pop Corn = Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians. It's a memory technique. Go eat popcorn gets them through the next few books where they were getting stuck.

These four books, all written by Paul, are rich with quotable verses. Therefore, May will be 'Go Eat Pop Corn' month.

We have to be careful. Many 'quotable' verses can be taken out of context. So please read them within the context they are written and use them appropriately. The word of God is sharper than a double-edged sword (Heb 4:12), so make sure to wield it properly.

Challenge: Memorize these verses.

Disclaimers: I am not suggesting that anyone will memorize a verse each day – for 31 days straight, and necessarily retain them. You can try. When memorizing, or practicing, you can pray over that verse as you recite it to yourself. Work on yesterday's verse then work on today's. By the end of the month, you may not have memorized all 31, but if you have ten, or even one committed to memory, you are farther along than you were before. You also become more aware of where you can find certain verses quickly.

If you don't want to memorize, then meditate on the verses. Don't simply read them once and put your Bible away. Think deeply about them and pray over them as they teach you something about life in Christ – for this life and the life to come.

Other disclaimers: I may have missed some of your favorites. Sorry.

Some familiar passages are several verses long – so I didn't include them in this. You can still read them!

I have stored up your word in my heart, that I might not sin against you. Psalm 119:11
